Investment Manager Analysis

Eagle Capital Management

March 31, 2014

Eagle's decision-making process is a bottom-up focus on companies undergoing significant change. They are looking for management teams with a vision to meaningfully change the company over the next three to five years. They must understand the corporation's strategy, evaluate it, judge management's record and ability to execute and ensure that they have the necessary resources. They then confirm that the company is undervalued. Their universe is ranked from companies that they know from adjacent opportunities and from dialogues with cutting-edge thinkers in different industries. While they use databases to highlight mispriced stocks, they do not take reported numbers at face value. Almost all of their value-added comes from original research. Frequent meetings with management, other employees and competitors, suppliers, and customers are integral to their process.

Advisory Research Small Mid Cap Value

March 31, 2014

Advisory Research's Small-Mid Cap Value philosophy focuses on the investment of stocks that are believed to be undervalued on a price-to-book basis. These stocks have, in their opinion, minimal downside risk. The companies that provide the firm with the best opportunities are those with undervalued assets that are typically off the radar screens of most firms or have been abandoned by the investment community. Once these companies have been pinpointed, the firm attempts to identify a catalyst that will cause the valuation of the company to be realized in the market place.

Westfield Capital All Cap

March 31, 2014

Westfield is a fundamental, bottom-up manager investing in earnings growth stocks due to their conviction that stocks follow earnings progress and that they offer the best opportunity for superior real rates of return. Westfield generates themes to drive investment ideas in specific areas throughout the capitalization spectrum. This is particularly the case in cyclical sectors such as energy. The firm does utilize screens; however, most of their themes are driven from their understanding of the sectors that each analyst covers. The analysts' network and industry knowledge are the most critical components of the idea generation stage, and as bottom up investors, Westfield does not use the benchmark as a part of the portfolio construction process.

Process focuses on the intrinsic value of the underlying common stock as well as on the convertible security itself. The underlying equity analysis looks for the best combination of intrinsic value, statistical cheapness and earnings revision. The underlying fixed income analysis encompasses financial statement factors in addition to trends of pertinent financial ratios such as pre-tax interest coverage, current ratio, return on equity and profit margins. Convertible characteristics they analyze include quality, intrinsic value, conversion premium, break-even, investment value, yield advantage, call and put features, liquidity, and sensitivity/horizon analysis. They purchase when the underlying equity exhibits superior valuation characteristics, coupled with the most compelling combination of statistical cheapness and earnings revision; underlying bond exhibits solid cash flow or improving fundamentals; and convertible particulars are attractive.
